

Date:

Global Strategy
To Be Discussed

The chairman of the board of Russian studies at Syracuse University will attend the twelfth annual global strategy discussions at the U.S. Naval War College at Newport, R.I., Monday through Friday.

Dr. Warren B. Walsh will be among 200 leaders in education, finance, press, government and the armed forces who will discuss current problems facing the nation.

Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, will be among speakers at the roundtable sessions.

Vice Adm. Stuart H. Ingersoll, president of the Naval War College, will open the discussions.

CPYRIGHT